

The colours in use by the Assyrians appear to have been blue, red, white and black, on their sculptured monuments blue, red, and gold on their architectural ornaments, and green, orange, buff, white and black, on their domestic articles.

 designs. Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, are from bases of Roman columns, which evidently betray a Roman influence. The ornaments 12 and 13, from Sassanid capitals, represent in their general outline, at the same time, the forms of all the ornaments of the Sassanid style. It is the earliest example yet met with of lozenge-shaped designs. The figures and the arabesque appear to have derived their forms from patterns formed by geometrical constructions of lines, and this is the first instance of the repetition of curved lines forming a central point, enclosing a secondary form. By the principle contained in No. 16 would be generated all those exquisite forms of arabesque which adorned the domes of the mosques of Cairo and the walls of the Alhambra.
